

Fine Arts | Arts Humanities | Creative Writing

ALL THE WORLD'S A STAGE.

AND A STUDIO. AND A CONCERT HALL. AND A MUSEUM.

Whether you've already developed a passion or want to discover something new, the fine arts and arts humanities offerings at Estrella Mountain will enrich both your life and your college experience. As you begin your courses toward a bachelor of fine arts degree, study the human form in drawing and composition as well as sculpture, or experiment with black and white photography as you develop your own prints in the darkroom. Prepare for immediate entry into careers in graphic design, or see the computer in a new way through digital storytelling. Express yourself through modern dance or guitar. Tell a story that is uniquely your own through poetry, personal essays, short stories, or even the beginnings of your first novel, with classes in creative writing. Discover your flair for the dramatic in acting, playwriting, and storytelling. Your education in the arts will be enhanced as you study multicultural art history and music history. Discover the great works that will inspire you to create your own.

IT'S HISTORY.

AND YOUR STORY. AND OURS.

At Estrella Mountain, embracing diversity extends into the classroom, with multidisciplinary programs such as Chicano Studies. Build connections to various cultures as you study Mexican American History and Culture, American Indian Literature, and Rap Literature: The Oral Tradition. Understand the various identities and perspectives that make up our world today through courses such as Introduction to Women's Studies, World Religions, African Americans in Film, and Chicano Literature. There is no end to what you will learn and discover about yourself and others.
